The only news I have is through the surresy of the press. We have no formation at the War Office. Nor ould we have it as soon as it would rive through other channels. beyond the fact that I were a military uniform."

At Her Majesty' theater, at the Garrick, where "Zaza" is being played, and at the other houses where legitimate drama holds the boards, the occupants of stalls, boxes and galieries sang in chorus, "The Absent-minded Beggar" and "Soldiers of the Queen" between acts in order to give vent to their enthusiasm, although they settled down to the programme afterward. At the music halls, however, no one pretended to take interest in anything not having military color.

The Princess of Wales, the Duke and Duchess of York and the Portuguese Minister occupied a bux at Covent Garden, where "Lohengrin" was being played, and when the relief of Mafeking was announced they Joined heartily in the applause.

The London fire-insurance laws make fireworks impossible, and the city lacked the blaze of illumination characteristic of American cities during similar rejoicings. The Britisher, therefore, relies on lung power, and from St. Paul's Cathedral to Westminster Abbey and up Piccadilly to Hyde Park there was a Niagara-like roar, incessant, rising and falling, hour after hour, as the surging masses poured through London's thoroughfares. There was a lack of pyrotechnic glare, but every cabby and every busman in London had a Union Jack futtering from his whip, and the Stars and Stripes were by no means lacking. Patrons of four-wheelers were not content to ride inside the vehicles, and tops were crowded with flag-waving, cheering, sprawfing enthusiasts.

At Carleton House, which is still filled with Americans, the bands played "Marching Through Georgia," which has been recently adapted to an English song, entitled, "Marching to Pretoria," "Dixie," and other American circular were played. Ten thousand people stood in front of Mrs. Baden-Powell's house in St. George's Piace, cheering and singing, and singing, and send singing, and send singing, and send singing.

whereas the enemy would proposity able to avail themselves of telegraphic communication."

Col. Baden-Powell's brother in London has received a telegram from a Dutch friend in Pretoria, saying that Mafeking has been relieved. The performers in London music halls and theaters last evening had little use for stage business or for the lines in their pieces. The audiences which crowded the Alhambra, the Empire, Covent Garden or the theaters, had no desire to attend to stage performances. The first sight of a biograph scene in the first gimpse of a military or naval costume on the stage was sufficient to create an uproar. A leading actor in one of the Strand theaters said: "I did not attempt to read my lines last evening. It was of no use. The public had no interest in me beyond the fact that I wore a military uniform."

At Her Majesty' theater, at the Garrick, where "Zaza" is being played, and at the other houses where legitically drawn holds the boards, the oc-

That not only Mafeking, but the whole United Kingdom is relieved, is demonstrated by the utterances of the morning papers. The Daily Telegraph says: "Mafeking is a small place. Its fall would have made no difference during the course of the war, but while it the balance of battle was redressed upon the great fields of conflict, the unconquerable little town shut up in the north saw the few weeks for which it was expected to hold out pass into months of isolation. Never will England forget the happy, hopeful thrill that came to her when Col. Baden-Powell said: 'Mafeking can't be taken by sitting down and looking at it.' There is no advancement which the nation would not hall as a fair reward for the brilliant capacity, cheerfulness and iron courage of the hero of the empire."

The Standard says: "As a final blow to the hopes of the enemy, comes the news from Washington that the United States Cabinet met to consider a Pretoria dispatch asking intervention, and that President McKinley and his colleagues decided that they can take no steps whatever. If the Boers want peace, they must sue for it from the imperial government."

The Times says: "The demonstrations last evening in London have no parallel in recent times. Nor was this surprising. There has been nothing like the defense of Mafeking in modern history. Kars and Lucknow were fine examples of valor and endurance and resourcefulness: but the means of defense in those cases was infinitely greater than what was at the disposition of Col. Baden-Powell's most energetic and most capable helper was Lord Cecil, son of the Premier, whose mother died while he was doing duty far from home, and cut off from communication with his family."

WASHINGTON, May 18.—Nearly the entire day in the Senate was devoted to the pneumatic-tube-system service in the Postoffice Appropriation Bill. The debate at times was sharp and aimost personal. The appropriation was defended by Senators Chandler, Mason, Carter and Wellington, and opposed by Senators Allison, Hale opposed by Senators Allison, Hale Tillman, Lodge and Wolcott. senator alorgan introduced a resolution to investigate the Panama Canal Company, and in a speech severely criticised that company. Senator McCumber made a speech in favor of the retention of the Philippine Islands, during which Senator Tiliman took is sue with him over the proposition that the people of the South were glad the Confederacy was unsuccessful.

For the first time since the rebellion, the House today passed a measure to pay Confederate soldiers for losses growing out of the civil war. It was a bill introduced by Mr. Cox of Tennessee to pay the Confederate soldiers who surrendered at Appomattox for the loss of horses and other personal effects taken from them in violation of Lee's capitulation to Grant, by which officers and men of Lee's army were allowed to retain their baggage and side arms and horses. feated, or what they fought for had been rejected.

Mr. Butler of North Carolina interrupted to say that he could not corroborate the statement of Mr. Tilman. A minute later, when Mr. Caffery of Louisiana rose to make an inquiry, Mr. Wolcott asked him if he shared in the opinion that 95 per cent. of the Southern white people regretted now that the rebellion had failed and that the Union remained undivided.

"I do not," replied Mr. Caffery.

Mr. Mason of Illinois then resumed his discussion of the committee amendment, providing for the extension of the pneumatic-tube service. He defended Mr. Milholland against insinuations.

the pneumatic-tube service. He defended Mr. Milholland against insinuations.

Mr. Chandler of New Hampshire declared this useful modern invention should not be abandoned any more than we should abandon electric lights or telephones or automobiles. Mr. Chandler commented on the extraordinary delay of the Postal Committee, of which Mr. Wolcott is chairman, in not making a report, which delay, he said, permitted the railroads to increase their vast receipts for carrying the mails and at the same time prevented an adequate understanding of the merits of the pneumatic tube service. He believed the railroads had much to do with the difficulties Congressencountered in dealing with these questions. Mr. Hale protested against loading down the bill with a "merefanciful scheme, which had been advanced before Congress with the most brazen effrontery."

Mr. Carter of Montana said the difficulties of the chairman of the Postoffice Committee (Wolcott) with the members of the committee did not reflect credit upon that Senator. He had attacked private character with that immunity given those speaking in public debate, and instead of pre-had attacked private character with that immunity given those speaking in public debate, and instead of presenting facts had indulged in ponder-ous declamation. Mr. Carter said the extension of the tube service would to some extent add competition to the telegraph and express companies, and this, the Benator thought, might account for some of the opposition to the system.

Mr. Lodge said the system had operated to advantage in Boston, but he could not vote for this loosely-worded amendment providing an extension committing the government to enormous expense.

committing the government to enormous expense.

Mr. Hoar suggested a proviso that any extension of the service be limited to $12,000 a mile.

Mr. Wolcott said he would not be distorted by the grossly unjust and unfounded remarks of the Senator from Montana (Mr. Carter,) nor of the charges of the Senator from New Hampshire (Mr. Chandler,) that the railroads were behind the opposition. The railroads had no more to do with it than they had in fixing the color of stamps.

The language of the resolution of the mmittee, directing Chairman Chandato press the resolutions as prenated is as follows:
"Resolved, that the chairman be dicted to press to a vote the resolution ported to the committee."
The adoption of the resolution was seeded by a discussion of the variapoints involved in the controversy, lauding the proper course to be pured with reference to Mr. Clark's crenitials when they are presented to Benate.

Senators Chandler, Hoar, Burrows, Mc-Jomas, Caffery and Turley took the op-soite view. The discussion was spirited and personal at times. Under Senator Chandler's original notice the resolu-ion will come up in the Senate at 1 victock tomorrow, and by direction of the committee, he will make strenuous flort to secure early consideration of it.

the committee holds the reference should be adopted, especially in view of Gov. Smith's letter. Senators Pritchard and Harris expressed themselves as opposed to the reference of the credentials when they arrive. The principal participants in the controversy over the motion to press the committee resolutions were Senators Turley for and Pritchard in opposition. Mr. Turley took the position that when the Senate assumed jurisdiction of the case, it no longer rested with Mr. Clark to determine it by resigning, while Mr. Pritchard held that the right of resignation was a personal signing, while Mr. Pritohard held that the right of resignation was a personal right, and could be exercised at any time. He also contended that the vacancy in the seat occupied by Mr. Clark began when the latter made the announcement of resignation. There were some references to the reappointment of Clark by the Lieutenant-Governor, indicating the opinion on the part of some of the Senators that it was not in accord with the Senatorial idea of securing a seat in the Senate.

WASHINGTON, May 18.—An agreement has been reached between the members of the Senate Committee on Privileges and Elections, and the friends of Senator Clark that the matter shall go over until Monday; that no effort shall be made to get action on the committee resolution tomorrow, and that if Mr. Clark's credentials arrive previous to that time they shall MORE CORRESPONDENCE.

BUTTE (Mont.) May 18.—Gov. Smith today sent dispatches from here to Senator W. A. Spriggs in naming Mr. Clark to, succeed to the vacancy caused by his own resignation; and saying he had named Martin Maginnis of Helena to fill the vacancy. The Governor gives as his reasons his opinion that the appointment of Clark by the Lieutenant-Governor was tainted by collusion and fraud.

The Governor also sent a formal protest to Chandler, detailing his reasons. He has also issued an open letter to the people of the State denying that he had any knowledge of the contemplated step when he left Montana for California. He says he went to California at the request of Thomas R. Hinds to look into the title of some mining property in which Miles Finlen was interested. He owed Finlen 2000, and thought by going he might earn a fee that would be applied on the indebtedness.

(A. P. DAY REPORT.)

WASHINGTON, May 18.—In response to the Senate resolution of the 16th inst., the secretary of the treasury today sent to the Senate a statement from the Commissioner-General of Immigration concerning the immigration into the United States of Japanese laborers. From this statement it appears that 2250 of the laborers arrived in 1898; 3355 in 1899 and for the ten months ending April 20, 1900, 7181.

These figures indicate only those who have come direct to the United States from Japan, but do not embrace those reaching this country via Canada. How many are coming in this way the department does not know, but the commissioner expresses the opinion is expressed that there will be large increases the coming year. TO SUPPORT CAR MEN EXCITING DISCUSSION IN ST. LOUIS, May 19.—A meeting of Central Trades and Labor Unions' executive boards was held last night at Walhalla Hall for the purpose of considering a strike in support of the railway employés who are on strike against the St. Louis Transit Company. The meeting convened at 3:30 o'clock and adjourned at 11:50 o'clock this morning. The delegates indorsed the strike of the former employés of the St. Louis Transit Company, and resolved to recommend to all members of trades and labor organisations in St. Louis that they hold themselves in readiness to suspend labor when called upon to do so by the executive of the Central Trade and Labor Council, Building Council and Street Raifway Employés' Union.

The action of the Central Trades and Labor Union is not decisive. Therefore it will be necessary for the delegates at the meeting last night to report to their unions. Each union will then vote upon the question, and only those unions whose members vote to strike will walk out if the call comes. A three-fourths vote of each union is necessary to declare a strike.

NUMEROUS DISTURBANCES.

[A. P. DAT REPORT.]

ST. LOUIS, May 18.—General Manager Baumhoff of the St. Louis Transait Company, says he has 1300 men at his command, many of them old employés. "With this number," said he, "I would be able to operate every line." "I would be able to operate every line belonging to the company if the police would give us proper protection." Mr. Baumhoff further eald it was

Mr. Baumhoff further said it was his intention to open several new lines such day until the entire system of the Transit Company was in operation. New men to take the places of the strikers are coming in every day from other cities, where they have been procured by agents of the company. Every day some of those who have come from other cities join the strikers' ranks. Fifty non-union men from Omaha have been persuaded to stop work. Their farce have been pald and they were sent home today.

and they were sent home today.

Twenty-four emergency policemen have sent their resignations to the Chief of Police. A few gave as their majosity state that they are tired of police work.

Cars are operating on about fifteen of the twenty-two Transit lines, but the number is inadequate, to carry more than a small proportion of the traveling public. The fact that cars are stoned and delayed at unexpected points deters many from riding.

For the first time since the strike began the city was last night patroled regularly by officers.

Arrangements are being made for a parade of union labor Sunday, when it is expected to have more than 35,000 men in line.

Another conference with the company is desired by the union. Chairman Edwards of the Grievance Committee, stated this afternoon that the union would again present its proposition of Thursday, which proposition was rejected by President Whitaker.

Patrolman Barton was shot in the head today by an unknown person while riding on a Jefferson-avenue car. He will not die.

He will not die.

Disturbances are reported at a number of points along the lines of the St. Louis Transit Company.

Joseph Richards a motorman who came here from Cleveland, was shot and probably fatally wounded at the corner of Laclede and Grand avenues.

John Ficks, an employe of the Transit Company, was shot at Prairie and Easton avenues.

John Ficks, an employé of the Transit Company, was shot at Prairie and Easton avenues.

At 1 o'clock a crowd gathered at the corner of Fourth and Morgan streets and upset a wagon containing coffee and lunch for the non-union men running cars of the Easton-avenue line. The crowd then turned the wagon upside down and drew it across the tracks and repeated the operation as often as it was removed. There were no police in sight.

The policeman who was on the front platform with Richards when he was shot, was dragged from the car and severely beaten, and the conductor suffered a similar fate. The mob, which numbered 200 persons, stoned the car. The house of delegates this afternoon passed a bill to revoke the franchises of the various street railroad companies in St. Louis in case they failed to run their cars in compliance with the terms of the city ordinances.

There was a somewhat heated discussion in the Reichstag today over the action of the president of the House, Count Von Ballestrem, ruling out of order a number of Socialist amendments to the Lex Heinze. Herr Binger hotty criticised the ruling, declaring the Centrists were allowed to do what is not permitted in the case of other parties, and demanded a vote oil the president's ruling, saying, also, that the members of the Reichstag were not subject to the president's ruling, and that the House was not a school.

The president excitedly censured Herr Singer for making an improper expression, and said he would not tolerate charges of unfairness against himself. Herr Singer denied making any allusion to the president, and after further discussion, the House, by a vote of 226 to 117, upheld the president.

CHICAGO, May 18.—(Exclusive Dispatch.] A crowd of men in Malachy Hogan's Clark-street Exchange today left off talking when a tail, broadshouldered man, wearing a black hat with wide brim, entered: His beard was big and black, and hid all the buttons on his vest. Manager Quigley soon made out that he wanted to see Jeffries. He rushed out from behind the bar and said: "I want to shake the hand of the father of Jeff."

Provision was them made by the general assembly to place the election of a permanent clerk in the hands of a committee composed of one commissioner from each synod, to hands of a communion one commissioner from each synod, to be named hereafter by the moderator. This committee will give a hearing to all who wish to nominate candidates, and will eventually present two names for consideration by the general assembly. Among the candidates for the position of permanent clerk are Rev. Dr. strong the Commission of the consideration of

made by the special committees on the appointment of standing committees of the general assembly. The majority report recommended that the standing committees be appointed by the moderator, assisted by a committee of ministers and elders, the latter committee to be also appointed by the moderator. This is the method now in vogue. The minority report thinks it advisable to divide the territory covered by the general assembly into twenty-two election districts, equal in size, by combining the smaller synods and dividing the larger presbyteries, when necessary, for the election of standing committees; each committee to select its own chairman. THE INCANDESCENT LAMP. CANADIAN CLAIMS IN REGARD TO

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES)

NEW YORK, May 12.—The part taken by the Canadian Woodward, a quarter of a century ago, in the invention of the incandescent lamp, has recently been recalled. It is claimed that the original discovery of the principle of incandescent electric lighting was made by Woodward in Toronto, and patented in Canada and the United States prior to the time when a patent was granted Edison; and, moreover, that the patent for the Canadian discovery was purchased by Edison when he was making his original investigations, and before he ob-

Prof. Elihu Thomson says that had he rested content with exhausting the tube, he would have had the honor of being the inventor of the incandescent light, as used for commercial purposes.

The question of the priority of the Canadian invention is, however, disposed of by the well-established fact that the principle of the incandescent lamp dates several decades before the SAN FRANCISCO, May 18.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Grand jury indictment was presented by Dist.-Atty. Byington in Judge Bahrs today against Mrs. Notile R. Craven and George W. Simples. Town Recorder of Sausalito, for sub-oristion of perjury. Judge Bahrs fixed ornation of perjury. The arrests will probably be made tomorrow.

These proceedings are the outgrowth of the rash perjury last month in the suit of Mrs. Craven to establish her claim to a widow's share of the big eatate of Millionaire James G. Fair. Mrs. Craven is charged with false testimony before the grand jury, while Simpton is accused of perjury in swearing that he married Mrs. Craven and Senator Pair, the testimony that he afterward recanted. Sylva is accused of procuring Simpton's false testimony.

It is understood that the indictments against Sylva and Simpton will not be pressed, as they have confessed their fraud, but that a great effort will be made to convict Mrs. Craven in order to put an end to the vexatious litigation that has occupied the courts for several years. Lawyers regard the case against Mrs. Craven as very strong, as there is no question but she knew that the claim of the marriage ceremony was fraudulent. The penalty for perjury in California is imprisonment for not less than one nor for more than fourteen years.

This road, which will be about 1200 miles in length, will effectually cut off all hopes of another competing road entering the southern part of the State.

The activity of the Union Pacific reconstructions are several ways.

The activity of the Union Pacific peo-ple, or, rather, the Vanderbilts, has probably hastened Huntinston's desire to build this road. When it will be commenced it is hard to say, but it probably will be started within the year.

probably will be started within the year.

The route will probably be from Los Angeles northeastward, crossing the Santa Pé track in San Bernardino county, straight to Milford, Utah. The advantages of a road in a direct line advantages of a road in a direct line almost from Salt Lake City to Los Angeles can be seen. It is a tremendous cut-off to the southern part of the State, and it will be an active competitor for passenger business for the southern part of the State, with the Santa Fe at present does a passenger business to Los Angeles despite what the Southern Pacific oream, but the bulk. STOCKTON, May 18.—The second day of the Christian Endeavor Convention saw many more delegates in their places, and while the attendance at the day session was principally confined to the visitors and the members of the local societies, the evening meeting brought out about 4000 to hear the programme. The music is the best ever heard in this city, and the 200 voices simply made the big pavilion ring in the choruses. The special numbers by artists of State reputation were also good.

All of the superintendents and State officers rendered their reports of the State union work this forenoon. They showed all branches of the society to be in a flourishing condition and steadily growing. Several able and interesting addresses were delivered by convention speakers, who held the crowd at all times.

At 4:30 o'clock the convention adjourned to allow the denominational rallies in the various churches to be held. All of them were well attended, and much interest was taken in the meetings. The ladies of each of the churches served light refreshments, and the meetings at the close resolved themselves into receptions. The delegates became acquainted with their coworkers and others.

The evening programme was a splendid one. It opened with an open-air praise service on the plaza, and there was a large gathering. Several helpful short sermons were delivered in the pavillon. The piffcers will be elected

The driver did as he was bidden, and then the highwayman ordered the passengers to get out and deposit their coin in a pile in the roadway. This was done in a few minutes and without any mishap. The robber made no call for the treasure box. As soon as the passengers had made their contributions to the fund for the support of the highwayman, he ordered the driver to continue.

Before he got started, however, the stage coming from the other way drove up and the highwayman ordered this to ston, telling the other driver to keep on. It required but a few minutes more for the robber to secure the money of the occupants of the second stage, two of whom were women, though they were not molested. The same method was employed by which the other stage passengers were relieved of their coin, each depositing a sum of money in a pile in the roadway.

From the first lot of passengers the robber secured about $125. The most that any one man contributed was $40. He had $150 with him at the time, however, but was wise enough not to part with it all. Some of the passengers gave up all they had. From the second stage it is estimated that the highwayman secured about $110 or $120, in sums ranging from $10 to $30. Nine persons were relieved of their coin in the two stages.

ranging from $10 to $30. Nine persons were relieved of their coin in the two stages.

Wells - Fargo Messenger McNew stated that no treasure to amount to anything was on either stage, and on neither stage was the treasure box molested. Four of the men who were relieved of their cash came through Stockton to San Francisco, but on account of the short stop here, efforts to obtain further particulars of their names were fruitiess.

While but one man showed himself, there is a belief that the robber had a friend near by who would have assisted him had it been necessary. The man who stopped the two stages and robbed the passengers is described as being of medium height, stoop-shouldered and having blue eyes.

On the way down on the train this morning one of the ladles and one of the gentlemen who were in the stage at the time of the robbery saw a man on the train whom they declared was the man who did the work. The man got off at Oakdale, and the officers there were immediately notified. Two suspects, Kelley and Malone, are under arrest at Oakdale.

Sierra Railway Company's train from Carter's. The men have given their names as Charles Malloy and Mike Kelly. The latter was pointed out to the constable by one of the passengers on the train, who was also on the stage, as the man who did the business with him. Upon being searched, $3 was found on one and $5.75 on the other, but no weapons.

Constable Swatzel made inquiries at Jamestown and found that the stages were held up at $0 clock in the evening, and the men registered at the Willows Hotel at $0 clock. The suspects claim they were in Jamestown all day, and would be able to prove an alibi. The Sheriff of Tuolumne county has been communicated with, but he is out with a posse on what he thinks is the trail of the robbers. This is the first hold-up of Yosemite stages on the Big Oak Flat route. There was a hold-up about twelve years ago on the Wawona route, when John Stephens, the present guardian of the valley, was driving the stage.

SALE OF THE RAWHIDE IS PRACTICALLY COMPLETED.

[A. P. EARLY A.M. REPORT.] SAN FRANCISCO, May 18.—Nego-tiations for the sale of the Rawhide mine, the once famous gold-producer of Tuolumne county, to an English yndicate, represented by Lafayette de Frees, have been practically completed, and the documents transferring the property, are said to be in the hands property, are said to be in the hands of attorneys awaiting the settlement of a claim made by Wells, Fargo & Co. The price named is $850,000.

Three or four years ago, prior to the litigation by the three stockholders of the mine, the Rawhide was estimated to be worth $1,500,000, almost double the sum now offered.

Acting under the advice of the board of bishops, the Committee on Episcopacy, at its meeting today, decided to recommend to the general conference that an additional bishop be elected to take charge of the work in Eastern China. This makes three missionary bishops which the conference will be called upon to elect at the present session. The official to be put in charge of Eastern Asia will be located in Shanghai, China, and will be required to spend four months in Japan and one month in Korea each year. The action will be presented to the general conference tomorrow. The committee decided upon Zurich, Switzerland, as the Episcopal residence for Europe.

Bishop McCabe, who occasioned considerable surprise several days ago by preparing and giving out for publication a set of satirical resolutions referring to the outside work performed by the bishops, may be censured by the conference for his action. Today Chairman J. M. Buckley declared that the Committee on Episcopacy would investigate Bishop McCabe's action and report to the general conference. Bishop McCabe will, it is said, be summoned before the committee.

NO BISHOPS ELECTED. [A. P. DAY REPORT.]
CHICAGO, May. 18.—The conference took three more ballots today for two additional bishops, but without result. Dr. Henry Spellmeyer of Newark, N. J., and Dr. J. F. Berry of Chicago, editor of the Epworth Herald, are now, however, far ahead in the voting, and though many believe it may require several more ballots to elect, friends of the two leading candidates are confident that they will be successful. A feature of today's balloting was the withdrawal of the names of Dr. W. V. Kelley and J. W. E. Bowen, the latter the colored candidate.

A much-disputed question—the removal of the time limit on pastorates—also came up for discussion, debate being unfinished when the conference adjourned. [A. P. DAT REPORT.]

CHEERING AT LONDON.

RELIEF NEWS GIVES RELIEF.

(A. P. NIGHT REPORT.)

LONDON, May 18, 9:48 p.m.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The dispatch of the Associated Press announcing the relief of Mafeking was posted outside the Mansion House, and the news rapidly spread. A large crowd collected, and easily controlled in earlier life begin to affect the constitution.

Those predisposed to Scrofula, Cancer, Rheumatism, Gout and other hereditary troubles may escape till then, but as they age the blood, so long tainted and weakened by accumulated waste matters, is no longer able to properly nourish the body, and it becomes an easy mark for disease. At this critical period of life the blood must be re-enforced before it can perform its legitimate functions and rid the system of these poisons, and nothing so surely and effectually does this as S. S. S.

S. S. S. strengthens and enriches the blood, improves the appetite, and builds up the general constitution. It is not only the best blood purifier, but the best tonic for old people. It warms the blood, tones up the nerves, removes all taint from the blood, and prevents the development of disease.

S. S. is the only purely vegetable blood medicine known. Not one particle of mercury, potash or other mineral poison can be found in it, and it may be taken for any length of time without harm.

S. S. is the only remedy that reaches deep-seated blood troubles like Scrofula, Cancer, Rheumatism, Eczens, Tetter, etc. It purifies and restores the blood to a healthy, normal condition, and makes it impossible for any poisonous waste materials to accumulate.

If you have an old running sore or an obstinate ulcer that refuses to heal, or are troubled with boils and carbuncles to S. S. S.

to reassure the natives.

"The enemy have burned the chapel, broke much glass, plundered many houses, and taken cash from the banks; but otherwise they have not done much harm. The railway is badly damaged, the Ingagane and Nkader bridges are destroyed, as are many culverts, and the pumping stations and waterworks.

"Of the 7000 men flying before us, about one thousand seem to have gone to Wakkerstroem and some by Miller's Pass to the Free State. The remainder, who are described as disorganized rabble, have gone porth.

[A. P. BARLY A.M. REPORT.] CHICAGO, May 18.—Bishop J. C. Hartsell of South Africa talked before the Freedman's Aid and Southern Education Society last night at its anniversary exercises at Stuebaker's Hall. His theme was "Africa." He said, in part:

His theme was "Africa." He said, in part:

"My anxiety for the dark continent is not for its exploration or for its government. When this war in the Transvaal is over, and it will be over soon, there will be peace in all the land. Germany, France and England will all get together and settle their disagreements, while America stands the umpire of the world. But it is for the black millions who have lived there alone for 5000 years, with no arts, no sciences, no society and Bittle government that I am worried. The saddest feature of the whole continent is the demoralization following the native races' contact with the white civilization."

Bishop Harizell said that the greatest diplomatic triumph of the age was that achieved by the President and Secretary Hay in the negotiations for the open door in Chima. Other speakers were Dr. M. C. B. Mason and Dr. S. F. Cadman.

ANTI-IRISE SPEECHES.

TONIC TO THE NATIONALISTS.

IA. P. EARLY A.M. REPORT.]

NEW YORK, May 18.—A dispatch to the World from London says the Irish parliamentary leaders. John Redmond and John Dillon regard the recent antihome-rule speeches of Salisbury. Baifour and Chamberiain as simply a political move to weaken, if possible, the position of the Irish party which in the next Parliament will command a solid phalanx of eighty to eighty-five votes.

That party will not be committed to either the Liberals or the Tories, but in the natural course of events its strength must mainly be thrown for the Liberals, and may be the deciding factor. There always is some secrets movement in Ireland, but certainly it is not sufficiently potent or active at the present time to give the least ground for alarm.

Lord Salisbury and his colleagues were subjected to the flow of an alternating current from 5 o'clock every evening factor. There always is some secret movement in Ireland, but certainly it is not sufficiently potent or active at the present time to give the least ground for alarm.

Lord Salisbury and his colleagues were getting anxious about the possible electoral effect of the wave of prolifish entiment caused by the gallantry of the Irish troops and the success of the Queen's visit. So they wished to check the spread of the idea fostered by the Daliy Mall and other Unionist papers that the golden moment had come at which some large concession could safely be made in response to the Irish national demand.

Their anti-Irish utterances are regarded by the Irish leaders as calculated to act as tonic on the Irish Na-

TO DEAL WITH CRIMINALS

COMMITTEE DISCUSSES METHODS [A. P. DAY REPORT.] WASHINGTON, May 18.-In st of Atty.-Gen. Griggs, the Judiciary Committee of the House considered means to deal with the Neeley case and like offenses aris-ing in Cuba. The need of action was requested by the Attorney-General in a letter to Chairman Ray of the com-

California athletes who are the Princeton track, will with the University of Pennitrackmen tomorrow in a dual prominent member of the la seam, when seen today, said except two of their men (Hoff-sid Woolsey,) are in fine conditions they expect to put up the last they expect they expec justice there and taken refuge in the United States, make it my duty to call your attention to the fact that the application of the present exradition laws of the United States is in a condition of doubt and uncertainty which make it embarrassing to the Department of Justice to secure the prompt return of such offenders to the jurisdiction in which the crime is committed, and in which they should be tried.

"It is obvious that the laws of the United States ought to provide a sure and speedy return of fugitives from justice who fiee from Cuba and seek refuge in the United States. I have drafted an act which will make the course of procedure in such matters sure and certain and I respectfully ask that it be considered by your committee, and if found expedient that it be introduced and passed as speedily as possible."

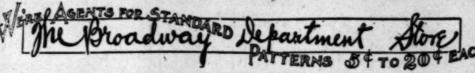

The Attorney-General's bill, besides providing for extradition in the case of all felonies and other crimes, past and future, against the penal code or the laws in force on the Island of Cuba, contains a section relating to extradition of fugitives between the States and Territories and the Islands in the possessions of the United States under the Treaty of Paris.

The discussion before the committee took a wide range covering the status of those officials who are performing civil functions while the Island is under military control. Some of the members regarded this military authority as so complete that it covered the cases of Neeley and others, and would permit the military branch to take Neeley in this country and return him to Cuba.

The view was general that the situation of Cuba.

The Insular Committee also considered other phases of the Neeley and like cases. The resolution of Representative Hay of Virginia, calling for information as to whether Director of Poets Rathbone had reported the Cuban postal accounts all right, went to a subcommittee consisting of Representatives Cooper of Wisconsin, Loud of California, and J. R. Williams of Illinois.

Representative Bromwell of Ohio made an earnest speech in favor of immediately reimbursing the Cuban postal fund the amounts misappropriated. He said good faith required this to be done and that the Cubans and the rest of the world should be made to understand at once that Cuban was being dealt with in the strictest honesty. Mr. Bromwell believed such a course would speed the day of Annexation if such, was to be the outcome, by giving the Cubans confidence in our fair dealings.

Pending the inquiries by the subcommittee, no action was taken on the Bromwell resolution, and the subject will come up again next Tuesday. Chairman Ray of the Judiciary Committee later on perfected his bill and introduced it in the House. It saids to section 570 of the statutes the following:

"Provided, that whenever any foreign country or territory, or any part of the Judiciary of the Compens, or though its military power, or otherwise has established or authorized government of such foreign country or territory, or any part of the Judiciary of the Judiciary of the Compens, or though its military power, or otherwise has established or authorized government of such foreign country or territory, or any part to make the country of the such country or territory, or any part of the substitute of the United States and returned and surrendered to the authorities of the United States and returned and surrendered to the authorities of the United States and returned and surrendered to the authorities of the United States and returned and surrendered to the authorities of the United States and returned and surrendered a more enabling influence upon me, as a poet, than Jenny Lind."—[Ham Christian Andersen. Great musicians, singers and players labor under heavier disadvantages in convincing posterity of their right to fame than do the other children of genius; the portable nature of their profession, its unrecordability except in the memories of their hearers, make succeeding generations inclined to, attribute their reputation to the extravagance or to the susceptibility of their contemporaries. Jenny Lind would have shared this general fate were it not that her remarkable personality made such an indelible impression upon the people of all classes in Europe and America—upon the tone-deaf, like Dean Stanley, as well as upon musicians like Meyerbeer—that these impressions have been recorded in the memoirs of every noteworthy person who knew her, from Victoria, Mendelssohn, Sonntag, Schumann, Andersen, Thorwaldsen, G. W. Curtis, down to P. T. Barnum.

As a child of 3 she imitated upon the plano the fanfare of the street bugiers; and through her girlhood the superabundance of music in her found that her restless feet made. Until 3 years old she had no more appreciative audience than her blue-ribboned cat, to which her some procuration at every step and bound that her restless feet made. Until 3 years old she had no more appreciative audience than her blue-ribboned cat, to which he sang by the hour till the wonder of her childish voice attracted the attention of an actrees boarding in the neighborhood. Jonny Lind's mother, a governess, embittered by her hard strugles to support husband and children, was with difficulty persuaded by this actrees to subordinate her burgher prejudices to the future of the child and consent to having the little girl's voice tested at the Royal Theater. Jenny Lind describes herself at that time as "a small, ugly, broad-nosed, shy, gauche, undergrown girl," yet the rare promise in her voice and the the sum of the properties of the content of the chaleground that the head of the theater agreed to take the nine-year-old child and educate her at the government expense for the next ton years.

The "actress-pupil Lind" found this theatrical training always invaluable to her. Her position, however, was by no means a sinecure, and her efforts to make restitution for the drill and expense bestowed upon her would have broken down a less-rugged constitution. At 10 she played the part of Angela in "The Polish Mine;" at 13 she appeared in twenty-two performances; but not until she was 17, after having appeared on the stage 111 times for her board and clothes, did the directors decide to allow her a small salary for her services.

That year she played ninety-two Treating Men Exclusively.

At 19 the played the part of America and thoroughly reciprocated this appreciation, so much so that soon after her but not until she was 11, after having the part of the play unhampered by the mechanics of art, Jenny Lind returned to Stockholm. Here she astounded even her most entinuisatic friends by her enormous development in singing, a development which made her voice unique in the world.

Her progress in music thenceforth was a series of triumphal ovations in Berlin, Finiand, Copenhagen, Leipzig, Munich, Vienna, London and America-the joy of each nationality in being awakened musically to consciousness of itself finding expression in many curious and characteristic ways. Students serenaded her in Copenhagen and Berlin, the art lovers of Vienna fashioned silver wreaths for her, and the crowned heads of Europe presented her with sifts estimated to be worth $500,000. The names of 'the Swedish Nightingale' and "the divine Jenny" were popular efforts to express appreciation of the birdlike, God-given qualities of her voice.

Her course through Europe could easily be traced by the chain of charities which she left in her wake. These charities consisted not only in gratuitous concerts, in singing in private to the sick or needy, in surprising homesick Hans Christian Andersen with a Christmas tree on Sylvester evening, but th giving wherever she tarried thousands of dollars to the poor and needy—giving it gieefully.

In the course of his latest weekly financial review, Henry Clews has this to say of the condition of general trade:
"General trade shows some signs of less activity; but not more than could be reasonably expected after the rush of the past six months. In the textile trades the pace has been a little too fast in some respects, and buyers finding values unsettled are holding off until their large early purchases are disposed of. In some lines of groceries there are signs of overbuying, and similar reports are heard here and there from other trades. As a whole, however, the business situation is sound and promising. The approach of a Presidential election acts as a deterrent in some quarters, much more than it really should, but there is every prospect of a renewed revival of business when the elections have been discounted and values brought down to a more pormal HE TIMES-MIRROR COMPANY.

NEW PINANCIAL LAW.
It appears from the report of the Comptroller of the Currency that from March 14, the date on which the new inancial bill became a law, to May 12, applications have been received to the number of 229 for authority to organize national banks with capital of less than $50,000, each, the applications representing a total capital of $7,205,000. Fifty-nine banks have been organized, since March 14, with less than $50,000 capital each, and 36 have been organized with $50,000 capital or over. These 85 banks have deposited bonds to secure circula-

The above figures illustrate one of the excellent features of the new Spancial law. In authorizing the organization of banks with a capital as low as $25,-2000 each, the law makes it possible for many small rural communities to have banking facilities, which they could no well have had under the old law, for the many such communities is not sufficient ment for the organization of a bank

Opponents of the new financial law have freely charged that it is a measure in the interest of the centralization of capital, and designed principally to confer unfair benefits and privileges upon men of large financial resources. The feature of the law above referred to does not by not by any means sustain this conten there are, some defects in the new financellent piece of legislation, and such faults as it may be found to have, when it has been fully submitted to the test of experience, may easily be remedied by

The sooner they cease to act together as Hawaiians, and accept the new order of things without reserva-tion, the better it will be for them and for all concerned. No doubt these new citizens will come to appreciate better than they do now, in the near future, the blessings and advantages of Ameri-can citizenship.

SCHUMANN AND BRAHMS LISTENED TO IN A LONDON SLUE.

[London Leader:] The Whitechaper road of a Sunday afternoon, when the "pube" have just disgorged their customers, is an erchiarsting place. In the side streets the venders of bananas and oranges have succeeded in littlering the pavements with refuse, some of which the wind catches up and send dancing along in miniature wreathed to the left: the street is a kind of Risidro; altercations between the peripatetic merchants of the curb claim a sympathizing and vocable audience, and above all the noise tinkle the belie of many rams, and towering above the shifting, cosmopolitan crowd stands a single policerman, blue eyed, stalwart, philosophie of mien, tolerant in his edition, cosmopolitan crowd stands a single policerman, blue eyed, stalwart, philosophie of mien, tolerant in his edition, cosmopolitan crowd stands a single policerman, blue eyed, stalwart, philosophie of mien, tolerant in his edition, and the commercial street, staggers a Corybantic group of two stunted youths, with their domans, their ostrich feathers a bit draggled. And so from the chaffy, noisy atreet. I pass into the quiet "quad" of Toynbee Hall.

On the Sunday sherved I write I was late, and had to wait until the dried quintette in E six had finished. (Schumann and Commercial street—Schumann and Commercial street—Schumann and Whitechapel!) There was quite a little crowd of us waiting outside the doors. One musical enthusiast, in an overcoat yellow with age, smoke and wet, had shies are gived to a crack in the door so that he might not lose a single bar of the quintette in E six had is saidle to a crack in the door so that he might not lose a single bar of the quintette in E six had is saidle to a crack in the door so that he might not lose a single bar of the quinter and the saidle of the condition of the toud of the condit

If you had any doubts as to the real East End character of the bulk of the audience, the smell would soon under ceive you. A good many of the audience, of course, are quite respectable and washed, and all look as if they were, for it is the etiquestte to get your self up as sprucely as possible. If you do not happen to possess a clean "biled rag," owing to financial complication, an overcoat butfoned up to the neck, round which you fold a handkernier, is quite in the fashion. But some of us are more elaborately dressed. In deed, the Hoynbee Hall audiences are interesting because they do not consist of one class—the well-fed warehouseman, the clerk down at the heels, the intellectual shoemaker, the hungry eyed Jew, the factory girl and the lady are all there. Comparative ease and makeshift poverty sit shoulder to shoulder on the narrow chairs, but it is the makeshift poverty that applands loudest. The general character of the audience, however, is East End, as even residence streets, on account both of their beauty and the shade they afford, to be uselessly sacrificed. Better see first whether the sawer pipe is not defective.

INVITED-BONUS OFFERED.

It was decided at a special meeting of the Board of Education, held yester-day afternoon, to invite local architects day afternoon, to invite local architects to submit to the heard, on or before Monday, the 25th inst., plans for the proposed High School annex, and as an incentive for competition it was also decided to offer a bonus of $100 to the architect whose plan shall be accepted. The special committee to which had been referred the task of bringing order out of chaos, reported that despite its efforts the latter reigned supreme. "Several efforts have been made," said Mr. Wincup, "to reach some decision, but there have been so many different ideas offered, and they have all been so enthusiastically supported, that we have found it impossible to do anything."

board is also anxious that the various rooms shall be properly lighted. While all agree that there should be plenty of light, members differ as to the method to be used in lighting. As the general plan of the building provides for a court, the majority favored lighting the rooms from the court. It was decided, in reference to the size of the building, that in submitting plans architects should provide for one study-room, $$\frac{1}{2}$ feet; three rooms $1\tilde{2}$ and as many rooms of $$\frac{2}{2}$ xiz as could be built on the lot owned by the school. The only other features were that the building should be two stories in front and provide for two rooms on the second floor, one to be $6\frac{2}{2}$ feet, and the other $2\frac{2}{2}$ xiz. The building when completed should not cost more than $10,000

CRUSHED BY TONS OF CLAY.

Fatal Cave-in at City Brick Company's Works.

Ricola Yalovica Instantly Killed by Falling Mass of Earth.

The popular theory that accidents and crimes of a similar nature run in cycles was demonstrated yesterday in the death of Nicola Yelovica. A few the death of Nicola Yalovica. A few days ago José Colores was killed by the cavins of a pile of phosphate at the Bradley Fertilizing Works. This accident was followed by a tremendous landsilde on the line of the electric road on West, First street, but which did not result in loss of life. The third accident of the series occurred yesterday morning at the City Brick Works, on the Mission road near the County Hospital, where a bank of clay caved down and buried Nicola Yalovica beneath it.

Yalovica had been in the employ of enced digger, and his practical eye is said to have prevented many a fatal accident.

The recent rains saturated the ground thoroughly, and caused the clay to swell with moisture. Yalovica made his early morning inspection as usual yesterday, and did not note any signs of impending danger in the cliff of clay, which was about thirty feet high. Accordingly he went to work with other laborers at the base of the cliff, without any thought of what was to happen within the next few houra.

About 9 o'clock the face of the cliff suddenly gave way, and tons of sodden earth came down without a moment's warning. Yalovica, who was nearest the bank, was overwhelmed in the twinkling of an eye, and buried deep under the weighty mass. Nicholas Wolff and three other nen who were loading a wagon near by managed to escape unhurt, with the exception of Wolff, who sustained a cut on the head and a bruised foot and shoulder.

All the men available were at once put to work in the hope of extricating Yalovica from his earthy prison before he was smothered to death. After an hour's hard digging his crushed body was found. Death must have been instantaneous, as huge clods of clay had fallen upon him and broken his bones.

Yalovica was a native of Italy, 40

WILL PLAY TODAY.

The rival baseball teams from the University of Southern California and from Pomona College will meet this afternoon at 1:30 o'clook on the Fiesta Park diamond in this city.

The intense rivalry between the two institutions is generally known. Pomona has carried off all the honors in the athletic meets with the University held so far during the college year. She woh at football and in track athletics, and took the intercollegiate tennis tournament by default. The baseball championship is to be decided by a series of three games, the team winning two matches to be awarded a $25 trophy pennant. The first game was a series of three games, the team winning two matches to be awarded a $25 trophy pennant. The first game was played at Claremont, the 5th inst., the Los Angeles collegians winning in a hard-fought struggle by a score of 9 to 6. Since then, the Pomona team has been practicing assiduously, while the University players, over-confident by reason of their former victory, have been resting on their laureis. Their only real practice since the game of the 5th inst. was the match with the Times team Thursday afternoon.

The contest today promises to be a gallant struggle. If Pomona loses she will be out of the running for the champignahip pennant. A host of "rooters" will come from Claremont today with the Pomona players, and the University will have a loud force there. If noise can bring victory, the University should win, For weeks past a squad of strong-lunged collegians has been training at the institution in Southwest Los Angeles in the gentle art of yelling. A "yell leader" has been selected in the person of H. I. Priestly, and many novel college cries are to be on tap at Fiests Park.

The line-up of the contesting teams will be as follows:

An effort is being made by cigar dealers and saloon keepers to induce the City Council to so change the existing ordinances as to permit the use of slot machines in this city. A printed potition, which is a ouriosity, has been distributed throughout the city. For ear of opposition the gambling advocates have tried to "keep it quiet." It is probable that the petition for the change of the grade of Temple street will be denied. It is not signed by owners of a majority of the property frontage in the district affected.

Of all the petitions which have been drafted or presented to the Council, of this is the most humble and abject supplication for something which the petitioners themselves know is not right. In its wording, it is a sem, and or consoliman who saw it, said yesterday it ought to be framed as a model for others who desire to pray for something they will not get. The Council is addressed as "Most Excellent Sirs," and after that title, comes the following long petition. It is classes of machines known as trade machines. This grade of devices is so created that when cards of a certain character or significance display themselves on the dial of the machine, and they appear as those characters or hands which are, by the rules of the game, entitled to a prize, that the owners of the machines thereupon give to the player manipulating the machine a check negotiable only for a certain amount of trade.

"By the discontinuance of this class of machines it is evident to the petitioners hereto that all trade has suffered or diminished of those business houses which heretofore were permitted to operate the same.

houses which heretofore were permitted to operate the same.

"We are informed and believe that the reason the immense race tracks of the country today are permitted to run or allow wagers to be placed on the various horses running over those race courses upon their premises, is from the fact that the various municipalities and State governments recognize the great benefit that breeders of fine horses and trade in general derive from the same.

"It is also the spirit of the law of the land to permit games of chance to run where the prizes are for products of commercial value, and which it traded or sold by this method creates a stimulus for active trade or commerce.

traded or sold by this method creates a stimulus for active trade or commerce.

"In all the large cities of the Eastern States this class of machines is permitted to be operated, and the public acknowledges its appreciation of them by their great evidence of patronage.

"In San Francisco, Sacramento and other of our own State cities, these machines are permitted to run, and no adverse comment of the public is known to prevail.

"We respectfully ask that Your Honors acquaint yourselves, if you are not already cognisant of the fact, with the data and methods of the various city governments in this regard.

"A license method of say about $5 per month would turn into the city treasury a fairly good revenue, and would obviate any prejudice now existing in the minds who believe that the city should derive some benefit from this grade of machines.

"Not alone does this meet the demands of trade encouragement, but also does it afford a source of amusement to those persons who have long ago acquired the regard which is evident every hour of the day in the demands of the greater public.

"We refer Your Honors to the records of the slot machines in the social places of amusement in the land today. Around them can be seen players whose social standing is regarded as par excellence, and whose patronage of this growing class of popular devices.

"Trusting that Your Honors will grant us an early response, and that this request will meet with your approval, we have the honor to remain, very respectfully, your obedient servants."

At some of the oil wells in the heart of the oil fields the owners are able to secure a sufficient quantity of natural gas to supply all the fuel needed for their pumping plants, and such use is made of it. Witmer Bros. Company's wells produce more than is needed, and the owners desire to pipe the gas to their residences. To that end they have applied to the City Countil for permission to lay gas mains along certain streets. The matter was considered yesterday by the Board of Public Works, and that body recommended to the Council that the petition be granted with the understanding that the gas is to be used only by the owners of the wells.

It will ar-rive here Monday or Tuesday, and at least two days will be required to place it in position. The pumping station will, therefore, not be in operation be-fore the last of next week, if that soon. As soon as the pump is started it will greatly increase the supply of water in certain portions of the city sanja system.

County Jail Prisoner's Story of Marital Afflictions.

McCoy Tells How He Came to Be Charged With Assault to Kill His Wife.

Charles B. McCoy, the Southern Pain the County Jan, awaiting a premi-inary examination at Newhall on a charge of assault with intent to mur-der his young wife, Irmgarde, tells a gilb story of how it all happened, and calmly lays the fault upon the his woe. But as far as the criminal charge is concerned, he considers the circumstances leading up to it such that he will be quickly released at his preliminary examination. Mrs. McCoy was covered with blood when he was arrested, but it was from a wound accidentally inflicted over his own eye, he says, while he was taking her to task for some fancied infidelity.

McCoy told his whole story in the County Jail yesterday and it was a long one. It is a tale of trouble covering a period of almost three years—ever since they were married. He is 29 years old; Irmgarde—"Emma," he called her—is 20. He says his young wife has led him such a merry chase as to almost wear him out. He is now long, lean, lank and lone; when he was married, he says, he was fat, free and frisky. But the escapades of Mrs. McCoy have worried him to death—because he loved her so.

His first suspicions were aroused about two years ago, when he and his wife were living in San Bernardino. He was working at the time for the Ivanpah Smelting Company out on the desert. Once he came home rather unexpectedly, and hadn't been back long before a comely young fellow called at his house and was surprised to find Mrs. McCoy's husband at home. Some time afterward, Mrs. McCoy told her husband that she was going over to a friend's on the other side of San Bernardino to show her how to do a new-fangled turn in fancyworker. Instead, however, of going to her friend's house, McCoy says she dressed in her best and spent the day in the wilds of Colton.

Then they moved to Los Angeles. Trouble still followed them here. But he soon got work at digging a well in Redlands, and they moved there, where they lived in a suite of lodging-house rooms. One day she got to teasing her husband to let her take a trip to Los Angeles. He finally gave his consent, and surper shop on Third street by Detective Steele, who had a warrant from the Redlands authorities for her arrest, alieging that she had stolen $175 worth of clothing from her landlady to do the city in. She was taken to the San Bernardino jail, where she had been a Triusty' during her confinement. He found these billetsdoux hidden between home more, and when her senten ing written any herself, and the matter was passed over.

Then they went to Bakersfield. He worked hard; she lived high. At the end of the month, he went around to settle up his bills, and found an account at a store, where she had bought clothes, gew-gaws and baby-ribbons, amounting to $71.64.

"That made me pretty mad," said McCoy, yesterday. "I totd her she would have to go to work, and perhaps she would learn something out in the world."

They agreed to separate for awhile. Mrs. McCoy went to Newhall and hired herself out to the Hascomb family as a single woman. One day her husband visited her, and she wanted to introduce him as her brother. He wouldn't pass as such, and explained the situation to her employers, who took the situation in good part.

While in Newhall his wife urged him to get work in El Paso. He couldn't see it that way and thought that something was wrons. He had an idea that there was another man in the case somewhere. One night he found Mrs. McCoy and a young fellow strolling up and down the cafion at Newhall. He put the interioper to flight and expressed himself vigorously to the wife. They were now living at the Newhall Hotel. He had decided that she should work no more, and he had quit a blacksmithing job to go to braking on the railroad. She now took to horseback riding to view the rural sights. He says, however, that the purpose of her sudden delight in equestrian pleasures was to make dates with men out in the country. One night he found her and a fellow named "Dave" by the roadside about two miles out of Newhall.

He said nothing to them at that time, so he avers, but on the spot he decided to let his wife go and have nothing further to do with her, after a last interview, when he would explain to her just how he felt she had treated him.

The day of parting was last Wednesday. They were taking a stroll. He was busy whittling a twig while he took her to task in angelic, injured tones—as he told the story yesterday. Suddenly her eyes finshed and with ablow and the instrument struck

"Oh, he's killing me. He has cut me in another heap. She was badly bruised by their falls.

Then a deputy constable arrived and McCoy was arrested without protest. Investigation showed that the woman had not been touched with a knife. The husband avows that with all her faults he loves her still.

Such is the prisoner's story. His preliminary examination will be held at Newhall today.

NORRIS SUES HIS WIFE.

WANTS HIS PROPERTY BACK.
Andrew Cozad Norris filed a complaint in the Superior Court yesterday against his wife. Norma Stuhr Cozad Norris, asking that she be required to convey to him $2500 worth of property, which, he alleges, she is simply holding in trust for him.

Norris was formerly a partner in the dog-show business with his brother.

"No, sir; only be lenient. Judge,"

They traveled under the firm name of Norris Bros., and held forth in this city several weeks ago with a dog and pony exhibition. Norris married his wife in Orange county last December. He owns property in this county and he now alleges that the $2500 paid for it was his own separate property and earned by him prior to his marriage. He conveyed it to his wifs, he says, who agreed to hold it in trust for him and convey it back whenever he should request her to do so.

But, it seems, she has forgotten about any such agreement. Since April 26 he has at different times made a demand for the return of the property, and she is alleged to have refused.

For more than thirty days past, Nortis says in his conception.

and she is aligged to have refused.

For more than thirty days past, Norris says in his complaint, Mrs. Norris has been almost continuously intoxicated, has abandoned his home and will not live with him, preferring to spend the greater part of her time in the company of lewd and dissolute persons of both sexes, and has spent large sums of money in riotous living. Norris now alleges that his wife has threatened to dispose of the property and convert the proceeds thereof to her own use, wherefore he asks the court to interpose and compel her to disporge.

HABEAS CORPUS INVOKED.

The writ was sued out by Bell's attorney, Earl Rogers. Esq., who will urge that the testimony elicited against Bell at his preliminary was insufficient as to proof and accordingly he should have been discharged instead.

to proof and accordingly he should have been discharged instead of being-held to answer.

Bell is charged with forging the name of his father, Horace Bell, Esq. to a check. Bell, Sr., was out of the city and could not testify at the examination. Rogers now raised the point that there can be nothing in the testimony to show that the father did not sign the disputed signature; or that, if he took the stand, he would not acknowledge the handwriting as his own. The attorney claims to have three authorities directly in line on this position.

A continuance was necessary, however, owing to the fact that the stenographer has as yet had no opportunity to transcribe his notes, and Bell was remanded to the custody of the Sheriff. His wife, who is a comely young woman of considerable beauty, was faithfully at his side in court, and was in marked contrast with his weak and fagged-out appearance.

COLAN'S SENTENCE.

HE GETS AN EIGHT-YEAR PAUSE. in these parts as "the Gypsy Kid," was sentenced by Judge Smith yes-terday for grand larceny committed last December, when he robbed a miner named Joe Leach, of $25, in the Golden Eagle saloon on North Main street. It took two trials to convict Colan, his first jury hanging half and half. The ourt's sentence was a heavy one.
"You represent a class of young men, Colan," said Judge Smith, before men, Coian," said Judge Smith, before he announced the judgment of the court, "who seem bent on doing wrong—and that continually. It is astounding that you, in this age of freeschool advantages, should turn your back on all opportunities and persist in being bad—thoroughly bad."

Colan began to feel that he was in for it, and smiled faintly.

"I don't know why it is," continued the court. "But the law must be kept; we must have order. People have a right to feel they can live in peace, and you and your class must be made to learn that you cannot ride rough-shod over the rights and privileges of other people."

To facilitate the robbery Colan had brutally assaulted Leach, who was drunk, to a state of insensibility.

"It is the judgment of this court," concluded Judge Smith, "that you be confined in the pentientiary at San Quention for a period of eight years."

Colan was astounded, and for a minute sat glancing about the courtroom with the fragments of a smile working over his features. "That was a heavy blow, wasn't it?" he remarked, as he left for the jail in the custody of a deputy Sheriff. he announced the judgment of the court, "who seem bent on doing

"What's your name?" asked the court, a bit testy apparently that two old codgers should have made fools of themselves so late in life.
"R. A. J. Tircy," was the reply. The court took a good look at him and meted him out a year at Folsom. Two disconsolate prisoners left on the north-bound train at noon for their respective penitentiaries.

COURTHOUSE NOTES.

BREVITIES MISCELLANEOUS. OUT ON BAIL. John Dixon, who with Walter Watson is charged with holding up young Phillips on San Pe-dro street last March, was released from the County Jail yesterday bondsmen are Charley Bernard, pro-prietor of the Center saloon on Court street, and Joe Manning, who pledge themselves to $1500 in his behalf. Watson was released several weeks ago or a bond signed by his father and mother. The trial of the alleged foot-pads is set for June 4.

INJUNCTION SUIT. The Las Flores Water Company began a suit for damages and injunction against Andrew McNaily and William Twaddell vesterday. The company asks that the defendants be enjoined from diverting any of the waters of Las Flores Canon, which lies in the Sierra Madre Mountains north of Pasadena, between Rubio and Millard Canons.

FOR FORECLOSURE. Hattle Fraser is suing Andrew A. Caswell an others for the foreclosure of a $150 mortgage, executed on April 11, 1894. NATURALIZED. Jacob Szarafinsk a native of Germany, was naturalize by Judge Shaw yesterday.

HAS THE MUMPS. When John Colman, a colored man, was calles in the criminal court yesterday for arraignment on a charge of murdering Chris Kenneson at San Pedro on April 23, E. H. Wilson, Esq., asked that the matter be continued until a week from today. He stated that a continuance was asked because R. W. Kemp. Esq., who has charge of the Colman case, is sick in his San Pedro home with the mumps. "The continuance is granted." aid Judge Smith: "we don't want anybody around this court with the mumps."

SMITH DIVORCE. Judge Shaw gave his decision in the divorce case taken under advisement on Thursday. Joseph Smith, postmaster at Downey, was granted a decree, divorcing him from Emma Smith, on the ground of desertion. Judgment was rendered against Mrs. Smith, who put in a cross-complaint, alleging cruelty.

NEW TRIAL DENIED. A motion for a new trial in the big foreclosure suit of the Farmers' and Merchants' Bank 'against Marie Jesus de Shorb and others, was denied by Judge Allen yesterday. The motion was made by Mrs. Shorb. Judgment was given against the Shorb interests several months ago, foreclosing a mortgage for about 175,000. The matter is to be passed upon by the Supreme Court.

[IN THE POLICE COURTS.] BABY SCARED INTO SPASMS

Mrs. Browning Disturbed Her Neighbor's Peace.

Attorney Crawford Enlightened on the Subject of Cribs.

Mrs. Anna Browning, a seamstress liv-ing at No. 551 South Olive street, was found guilty of disturbing the peace of H. Rosenblatt and family, residing next door. The Rosenblatts com-plained that Mrs. Browning has for some time been annoying has for some time been annoying them as nights by pounding on the wall divid-ing the homes of the two families, with some heavy object. The Rosenblatt baby was frightened into spasms by baby was frightened into spasms by these nocturnal demonstrations, and at last the nuisance got so bad that a deputy constable had to be employed to watch the premises, but Mrs. Brown-ing carefully refrained from her noisy manifestations while the officer was lurking near. Mrs. Browning emphati-cally denied being the author of the disturbances and produced witnesses to prove her good character, but the court adjudger her guilty, nevertheless, and compelled her to deposit $20 cash ball to assure her appearance for sentence today.

to assure her appearance for sentence today.

An amusing feature of the trial was a break made by Hugh J. Crawford, counsel for the defendant. One witness, in testifying about the frightening of the Rosenblatt baby by the noises made by Mrs. Browning, stated that the crib was within six feet of the wall. At the mention of the word "crib," the astute attorney sprang to his feet and protested vehemently against the use of such language in connection with the name of his client, whom he declared to be a woman of unquestioned virtue.

"Keep your shirt on, Crawford."

torney Chambers "the crib we are talking about is a baby's cradle, not the sort of crib that you have on the brain."

This saily caused a laugh at the spense of the excited attorney, and he immediately subsided. Crawford threatens to take an appeal from the judgment of the court finding Mrs. Browning guilty. TROUBLE OVER A STOVE. Pedro Lopez and Victoriana, bis wife, were on trial for disturbing the peace of Rita de Perales, a neighbor living at No. 1726 San Fernando street. The testimony showed that a stove left in care of the Lopezes by a friend had been rented by them to Mrs. Perales. When the owner of the stove in the course of time demanded it, Mrs. Perales would neither pay rent nor consent to its return. In the quarrel which ensued it was about a stand-off between the contending parties as to which of them used the most offensive language. After all the epithets that were hurled back and forth in the Spanish language had been translated for the edification of the court, the defendants were discharged.

Two of them, donroe Elligan and Earl Ramsey, oth colored, were sent to jail for hirty days. Frank Bilderrain, a Span-sh boy, was let off with twenty days, and Roy Page, white, was given fur-her time to produce testimony in miti-ation of his offense.

S. T. Beale was arraigned on the charge of attempting to defraud Mrs. E. J. Moore of No. 456 South Flower street, by jumping a board bill. Beale is the machinist who set up the rotary boring machine for Swensen & Hill, the Third-street tunnel contractors. In order to be near his work, he boarded to Mrs. Moore's house, but failed to at Mrs. Moore's house, but failed to settle with her when he removed his trunk and left. Beale's board bill was guaranteed by Contractor Hill, but the latter refused to pay it until all efforts to collect from Beale have failed. Beale pleaded not guilty to the charge of intending to repudiate the bill, and had his trial set for next Monday.

JOHN HARTYM.

JOHN HASTY'S GRAFT.
John Hasty, a former inmate of the Soldiers' Home, was given a sentence of sixty days for begging when he had money in his pocket, in spite of his protests that he could not remember anything about it. It was proven by a number of witnesses that Hasty solicited alms when he had no excuse for doing so. A nickel to buy a cruss of bread and a cup of coffee was all he asked, and he told his victims that he had not had anything to eat for twenty-four hours. He was shown up to be a liar and fraud, but protested his innocence to the last. On a former occasion he was convicted by a jury of the same offense.

PETTY THIEF SENTENCED.

Walter Hoehn, an alleged electrician, was given a sentence of thirty-five days for stealing a pair of spectacles while doing some work for Mrs. E. H. Woodman of No. 521 Bailey street. Hoehn has a bad reputation, but as he admitted his guilt and this was the first time he was charged with the commission of a crime, the court let him off easy in the hope that it would be a lesson to him not to steal any more. The culprit shed tears of repentance when he learned his fata.

tions for a proper celebration of the anniversary of the order on June 23. If there is a beneficiary order that has cause for rejoicing it is the Royal Arcanum, for having retrieved the loss in membership sustained a little over a year ago as a result of the adjustment in rates, and also for rising nobly above the innuendoes of people who predicted its downfall. When the first death claim of $3000 was called, with only 35 cents in the treasury of the order to pay it with, it was paid, and similar acts have characterized its entire existence. At the session of the Supreme Council at Montreal this week the report of Supreme Regent W. Holt Apgar shows a total membership of 200,150, being a gain of over 7000 the past year, and an emergency fund of $1.000,000 on hand, which is increasing at the rate of $40,000 per month. Philadelphia Citrus-fruit Market.

PHILADELPHIA, May 18.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Ten cars of California oranges were sold here at auction today. A large proportion of the offerings, both navels and seedlings, was in poor order. One car containing navels was in very bad condition and only averaged 2.21 for regular sizes. The weather is extremely hot and under the circumstances the market did very well. There is a good demand for good fruit in sound condition. One car of fancy seedlings averaged 3.13, and a small lot of fancy navels 3.93. Light offerings are expected next week and good prices should rule. Prices today were as follows: Fancy navels, regular sizes, 1.55@4.05, average, 3.48; choice navels, regular sizes, 1.20@2.65, average, 2.25; standard navels, regular sizes averaged 2.45; fancy seedlings, regular sizes, 2.40@3.40, average, 3.13; choice seedlings, regular sizes, 1.55@2.50, average, 2.24; fancy sweets, regular sizes, 2.76@3.10, average, 2.24; small sizes, 1.75@2.50, average, 2.34; fancy sweets, regular sizes, 2.70@3.10, average, 2.25; small average, 2.34; fancy sweets, regular sizes, 2.70@3.10, average, 2.52; small sizes, 2.35@2.55, average, 2.50; choice sweets, regular sizes, 1.55@3.00, aver-age, 2.55; small sizes, average, 2.28.

Boston Citrus-fruit Market.

BOSTON (Mass...) May 18.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] There were eight cars of California oranges sold at auction here today. Owing to light arrivals of both strawberries and oranges, prices showed quite an advance on good seedlings. There are only six clars on the track here unsold, and the prospects are very good for next week. Fancy navels, regulars, averaged 3.8; small, 2.44; choice navels, regulars, 3.8; small, 2.64; choice navels, regulars, 2.69; small, 2.77; fancy bloods, half boxes, 1.29.

western canned corn, spot, is strong, at $1. For futures the price is fixed at $7% cents in jobbing lots. At prevailing quotations for futures at packing-houses in the West in car lots, the jobbing price ought to be 2%@5 cents more. But some Los Angeles whole-salers bought early at lower prices, and they are able to dictate the price.

Prices Current, in a recent issue, says of hogs and hog products:

'The offerings of hogs have been reduced, but continue in excess of corresponding time last year. Total western packing 415,000, compared with 455,000 the preceding week, and 445,000 two weeks ago. For corresponding time last year the number was 380,000, and two years ago 480,000. From March 2 the total is 4,085,000, against 3,710,000 a year ago, an increase of 375,000. From was the close average alightly lower than a week ago, and $1.45 higher than a year ago. The quality, with few exceptions, is good.

'The past week has developed some tendency to lower prices for hog product, and July deliveries at Chicago close with a decline of 52% cents per barral for pork, 7% cents per 100 pounds for lard, and 15 cents for short rib sides, compared with a week ago. A fairly steady feeling appears to prevail at the close, and it is thought likely the reaction from the previous advance has practically culminated. It is recognized, however, that the future of the market will be shaped by the supplies of hogs. Should they continue steadily to maintain an in-

PHOENIX (Aris.,) May 12.—(Regular PhoEnix (Aris.) May II.—Inequiar Correspondence.] The county Democracy has just had a convention, and it was even a more amusing convention than Arisona Democrats are accustomed to have. The bone of contention was the indorsement of the gathering for the ephemeral honors of a delegateship to Kansas City. The regular candidate for the place was L. H. Orme, a former Sheriff of the county. A week before the convention the plum appeared to be coming to him without effort. But he counted his votes before they were in hand. When the convention opened at the Operahouse yesterday a clear majority had been secured by Dr. H. A. Hughes, city physician of Phoenix, a Democrat of sufficient prominence to have been considered a candidate for Governor in the latter days of the rule of Cleveland. But the minority died hard. Two solid hours were consumed before a temporary chairman could be elected, amid uproar that would have done credit to an Irish fair. In the afternoon the minority abandoned Orme and tried to start a stampede toward Frank Cox, Arisona attorney for the Southern Pacific. Cox has since told he wouldn't have the place under any circumstances. But the efforts of his friends failed, after repeated roil calls on minor questions, in one of which the minority, as expressed by one of the Orme faction, was "They've got us skinned, but we've got a right to holler." About 5 o'clock in the afternoon, however, the aggressive minority threw up its hands. Bullard of the Orme forces moved that Hughes be indorsed for the coveted place, with J. W. of sixteen-to-one. The convention de-clared itself opposed to imperialism and militarism, denounced. Republican treatment of Porto Rico and suggested self-government for the down-trodden Fillpinos, offered sympathy to the Boers, demanded "the panoply of Statehood" for Arisona, "viewed with alarm" the growing power of trusts, denounced the Territorial administra-tion, because of the attitude of the Governor in his advocacy of cession of arid lands to the States and Territo-ries, and, as did the Republican Terri-

While Nogales still was excited over the affair, an agitated Mexican informed the officers that he had seen a dead body hanging to a limb a short distance beyond the city limits, and even estimated the length of time that the corpse had hung in decomposition. A Coroner's jury was at once impaneled and started wildly for the scene of the tragedy. The limb was found all right, and the smell located without trouble, but it was only a skunk. The jury returned, wild-eyed, to hunt for the Mexican. He has not been found.

It is learned here that bids for the construction of the Santa Susana tunnel, to connect the Simi Valley and Chatsworth Park, will be opened on June 16. As soon as possible after that-time work on the tunnel will be started and carried on as fast as may be. The tunnel will be 700,000 feet long, the longest in the State. It is estimated that its cost will be 5700,000, and that it will be two years in the making. Track will be two years in the making. Track will be tunnel by July 1. There are two miles yet to be graded on the Chatsworth side. This work is to be pushed along as fast as possible.

Some months ago oil boring was commenced along the ocean frontage of the Cooper rancho at Ellwood. A hole 200 feet deep was sunk, and gas found. Owing to a misunderstanding between those who were doing the work prospecting was discontinued. It is stated here now that local and eastern men have negotiated as to the purchase of the property, and that boring will be continued within a very short time.

Arrowhead Reservoir Company, which have occupied the attention of Judge Oster in Department One of the Superior Court for several days, an agreement was entered into yesterday afternoon, dismissing all of the varied features of the allied suits, excepting that of the Reservoir Company vs. the Bond Company. The trouble originated from the fact that the firm of Miller, Bassett & Riley took the contract to dig certain tunnels for the company at a figure considerably less than the actual cost of the work. After a few weeks' work the contractors defaulted, leaving the work incomplete and many unpaid claims of laborers and material men. Some of these claims were subsequently cashed by people in this city, while others were held by the claimants until this suit was commenced. The laborers grouped their claims and brought suit, while the holders of assigned claims entered suit against the Arrowhead Company, the claims being in the shape of mechanics liens. At the same time, Miller, Bassett & Riley entered suit against the Arrowhead Company brought suit against the Maryland Company, which furnished the contractors' bond. The mechanics' liens, amounting to about $888, will be paid to the extent of $527, which amount the defendant company held in its possession, but which was admitted due the contractors, while each party is to pay its own costs. The assigned claims, representing about $900, were withdrawn, it not being possible to establish them as liens in court. The suit of the contractors against the company to enforce payment of about $400, is withdrawn, clearing the court records.

HILL'S TRIAL POSTPONED. SANTA ANA, May 18.—[Regular Correspondence.] The trial of S. Hill, charged with maliclously refusing to remove certain beautiful shade tree from in front of his residence on North Main street, has been postponed until Monday of next week. The prosecution Monday of next week. The prosecution apparently got off on the wrong foot in the break-away, and the contestants will toe the scratch for the signal a second time. Mr. Hill states that he is, of course, entitled to a speedy trial, as he deems himself under arrest, but that if the city is not ready for trial he will await its pleasure. The city of Santa Ana has already suffered irreparable damage as a result of the idiotic policy of denuding streets of shade trees on the ground that they are a constant menace to a properly-constructed sewer system. Complaints from property owners and residents generally are becoming more numerous over the adoption of this policy, now that the heat of summer is approaching, and many of the streets are without a semblance of shade.

WATER SELLERS AND USERS.

Their Rights Defined by United States Supreme Court.

Important Decision by Judge Ross Affirmed at Washington.

Samuel Nau of Des Moines, Iowa, has purchased a ranch of eighty acres in the peatlands west of this city, from J. B. Lossing for $10,000.

An important opinion regarding the rights of water companies and their consumers has been handed down by the Supreme Court of the United States, and a copy of the same was received yesterday by ex-Judge John D. Works of this city. The case in which the opinion is given is that of Osborne vs. San Diego Land and Town Company. The action was begun on January 4, 1896, in the United States Circuit Court in Los Angeles. On September 14, 1896, a decision was rendered by Judge Ross favorable to the defendant company.

The decision received yesterday affirms Judge Ross's opinion, and is of great importance to lawyers and water companies throughout the State. The case, when before Judge Ross, was entitled "Lanning vs. Osborne." and there were two important questions decided. The points passed upon were whether a water company and one taking water from it could enter into a valid water right contract for a consideration to be paid by the consumer to the company, and the other, whether a water company has the right, in the absence of any action having been taken by the board of supervisors to reëstablish and raise the rates charged by it for water. It was claimed in that case by the consumers that the company, having once fixed a rate to be charged for water supplied, could not change that rate, but that the consumers were entitled to water at that price forever afterward unless they applied to the board of supervisors to have the rate changed.

Judge Ross held, in deciding the case, that under the laws of California no

"The decision of the Supreme Court just rendered," said former Judge Works, yesterday, "affirms the judgment rendered by Judge Ross in the Circuit Court. It is a very exhaustive document, and whether the higher court has agreed with him in his position that a water-right contract can not be legally made, can only be determined by an examination of the opinion. It was claimed by the company that the question was not involved, and was unnecessary to be decided by the Supreme Court, and if this view is taken, it is possible that that important question has not been determined by the decision."

The case was argued orally in March by A. Haines of San Diego, for the water company.

annual rates fixed and established as provided by law; and decided further, that a water company had the right and power to establish and change its own rates, and that the only remedy of the consumers, if the rates were not satisfactory, was to apply to the board of supervisors to have such rates fixed by that body. He held, further, that no contract or representation made by the water company could take away from the State the right to regulate and control the sale and distribution of water by a company of that kind, by fixing the rates through the board of supervisors, as provided by law.

In this case the company had increased its annual rates from $1.50 per acre to $17 per acre. The decree of the Circuit Court was that the company had the right to make this increase, and it was given a judgment for the amount of the bock rentals from the time the change in the rate was made by the company. The case was appealed to the Supreme Court of the United States by the defendants, who were water takers from the company, numbering about two hundred.

Addition to Picture Gallery.

The latest addition to the Chamber of Commerce picture gallery has been laced in the sanctum sanctorum, where the board of directors is accustomed to cogitate on Wednesday afternoons. It is an excellent likeness of J. S. Slamon, retiring president of the chamber. It. Slauson held the office during 1836, and was the sixth president of the organization.

J. J. Doyle called on the police sur-groon yesterday afternoon, more scared than hurt. While moving an ice box at the St. Charles Hotel, a coffee urn was upset, some of the hot liquid run-ning down his back. Lloyd Gross, a three-year-old youngster, whose par-ents live at No. 135 Bonnie Brae street, was sent in at 3:15 p.m. to have a fishhook removed from his left thumb.

W. A. Hutchison, a white man, was locked up last night on a warrant charging him with petty larceny. According to Officer Berg, who swore to the complaint against Hutchison, he complaint against Hutchison, he to the wife of a neighbor, colored people, and then stole a number of planks from the retaining wall in the river at the foot of Fourth street, with which he built a cabin in the riverbed. The theft of another man's wife cuts no figure in the complaint against Hutchison, but he will have to stand thutchison, but he will have to stand trial on account of the lumber.

Better Mail Service.

Better Mail Service. Postoffice Inspector Mott Flint, Post-master Lewis A. Groff and a number of minor postal officials are planning for the betterment of the mail service in this city. Their recommendations will be forwarded to Washington in a few days by Inspector Flint. It is understood that a substantial raise in salary is contemplated for some of the employes, and that about $5000 will be asked as increased appropriation for the Los Angeles office. The money, if allowed, will become available July 1. W. G. Edens, superintendent of mail carriers, recently recommended that eleven additional carriers be allowed for Los Angeles, and Inspector Flint has Indorsed the recommendation.

Reformed Gambler Talks.

Reformed Gambler Talks.

It was a sad story or sin and degredation—incoherently spoken, but possibly true—that Albert Oakley, reformed gambler, drunkard and saloon keeper, told of his life to a fair audience at the Nazarene Church last evending. A tale beginning with the ruin of business, breaking up of home and the death of the fair partner of his sorrows. The message bidding him lead a better life came at a street meeting of the Salvation Army. The speaker was uneducated, and the discourse fragmentary, but the rendition was carnest. The meeting opened and closed with a song service and experience meeting. The demonstrative features, characteristic of the Hollness throughout.

Public officials are often called upon to suggest a panacea for unusual conditions. The Los Angeles Health Office is no exception. An elderly lady, robed to black, appeared at the office yesterday. Deep concern and desperation were apparent on every line of her countepance. She had six cats. What should she do? Cats as a general rule, she believed, were unhealthy and fostered disease. Why did not the Council pass an ordinance limiting each tered disease. Why did not the Council pass an ordinance limiting each family to one cat? Then the dog catcher could go out and rake in the extras with his drag net. Meantime something must be done with the six cats. "Knock them in the head?" "Shocking brutality." "Drown them?" "Never." But the clerk was equal to the emergency. "Give them to your Royal Dinner.

The "Attraction line" ran the cars at the royal dinner given last evening at Levy's by Messrs. T. E. Gibbon and F. J. Thomas, in commemoration of the victory of the Terminal franchise and in honor of President George B. Leighton of the Terminal Railway Company and the press of the city, Representatives of the Traction and Terminal Railroad commanies and of the daily newspapers of Los Angeles were guests. The floral decorations were artistic and suggestive, the hospitality was princely, the speeches were bright and shining and the congratulations were sincere. The newspapers of the city had been all together on this issue, and there was a great deal of pleasing togetherness at this banquet.
